Buckley - Biography

Back in the early 90's Buckley was resident for some of the most seminal nights in musical history, including Manchester's legendary Hacienda and Renaissance in Nottingham, where he played the first ever records on the opening night. As well as this he also played alongside live acts such as Inner City, Ten City and was the official DJ for M People on their first ever European tour. This later led to more residencies and guesting at almost every credible club throughout the world as Buckley established himself as a key player on the scene. These days Buckley's experience, versatility and skills shine consistently and although he has an expansive knowledge of many styles his focus, when DJing, producing or remixing is on quality house music.

Having been a DJ and producer on the international circuit for years Buckley is widely known for his DJ, production and remix skills. Over the last eight years Buckley has been resident at the longest weekly house night in the world Back to Basics in Leeds, Just Jack in Bristol and We Love at Space in Ibiza. Guest spots at the likes of Berlin's Panorama Bar, Glasgow's Sub Club and Below in Birmingham have served to reinforce his credentials throughout the world. His Back to Basics residency and the aforementioned mean that he has played alongside the likes of Francois K, Jeff Mills, Carl Craig and Claude VonStroke, to name a few.

Previous releases on labels such as Dust Trax, Made to Play and a remix of Unkle's, "Hold My Hand" have seen Buckley's sound make a sonic impact globally time and time again. His recent releases in 2010 have included "Kitch n Sync" on Back to Basics, a remix of "Psycho" on 20/20 Vision as well as a remix of Markus Nikolai's seminal house classic "Bushes", on Southern Fried Recordings. Most recently he has had great success with "Catch a Taste" on the One Records his remix of the Jet Project's "Cuba Walking".

Catch Buckley at a club near you soon and look out for his DJ sets, productions and remixes as his musical roots, passion and talent continue to blossom at every turn, serving as inspiration to all.
